

Art Gallery

The Gallery is booked through May! Here's a peek at the Winter/Spring line-up for 2012:

January: Gallery 114 Members Exhibition (A co-op gallery from Portland's Pearl District)

February - March: "Forged by Flame" an Encaustic and Metal Art Exhibition

April: Oregon City High School Art Club Exhibition

May: Columbia Fiber Arts Guild

The Singer Hill Art Gallery opened in June of 2011. Each show at the Singer Hill Art Gallery is curated with fine art from around the Pacific NW. An array of work rotates on the main floor at least every two months, keeping things fresh and exciting. The exhibits often including paintings, prints, photography, sculpture, fiber art and jewelry, among other mediums of art.

New to the gallery is the Loft, an upstairs extension of the gallery. The Loft features more wall art, jewelry, cards, prints, and other gift items for your shopping and browsing pleasure.

Karen Grondin, gallery curator and owner of Grapevine Graphics & Picture Framing, has a custom framing desk located at the back of the Singer Hill Art Gallery.
